

Validation and Accountability Path

The following diagram represents the relationship between the different entities working with the Course of Study.

The Manual defines the Course of Study. The International Course of Study Advisory Committee validates educational programs from the regions. Regional Course of Study Advisory Committees oversee the contextualization and compliance of programs within their region. Educational providers implement the contextualized programs and deliver it to learners through a variety of delivery systems.