

ENGAGING SPIRITUAL CONVERSATIONS

One-Question Evangelism

Raphael Anzenberger, CEO of France Evangelisation and president of the Francophone Evangelist Forum says asking one question of students opened up spiritual conversations. Evangelists asked, "If God were in front of you, what question would you ask him?" Anzenberger says, "The question that a person poses provides significant clues about his or her questions about the meaning of life."

By giving people an open forum to ask questions, evangelists discover bridges to share the gospel. Anzenberger says, "Interestingly enough, most people, even atheists, are willing to ask a question. Very few are skeptical about the possibility of questioning God."
