

ENGAGING SPIRITUAL CONVERSATIONS

Where Do You Worship?

When matters of spirituality or religion come up, I ask, “Where do you worship?”

This conversation allows me to affirm my friend’s church attendance or to invite him to worship with me at my church. From this information I am looking for several considerations: openness to spiritual matters; hindrances to contact with God; faith shredding experiences; saving faith; spiritual thirst; further conversations.

I look for bridges (topics of interest, implied questions, or unclear statements) that will lead to our next conversation.
